Castro Offers To Send Jet Bombers Back to Russia

Cuban Makes Proposal In Letter to U.N.

Repeats Refusal To Allow Foreign Inspection of Arms

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro has offered in a letter to the United Nations to give up some 30 bombers delivered to Cuba by the Soviet Union. A U.N. spokesman today confirmed receipt of the letter.

Castro said that if the Soviet government "considers it convenient for the good development of negotiations and a resolution of the crisis to withdraw such airplanes, the revolutionary government of Cuba will not block that decision."

Says Planes Old, Slow

Havana radio reported that Castro, in a letter to acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant said the IL28 bombers were old and slow and the Soviet Union could take them back if it wanted to.

Continued presence of the bombers in Cuba is the biggest unresolved issue in the Cuban dispute between the United States and the Soviet Union. President Kennedy classed them as offensive weapons because they have a range of 750 miles and can carry nuclear bombs.

U.S. authorities estimate 30 or more of the bombers were delivered to Cuba. The Soviet Union said Premier Khrushchev could not order them out, as he had some 40 Soviet missiles, because the bombers had been turned over to Castro and were no longer under Soviet control.

Won't Permit Inspection

Despite his concession on the bombers, Castro in his letter to Thant repeated his refusal to permit foreign inspection of Cuban arms. He also repeated his threat

Russia Held Responsible by U.S. for Removal of Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities said today the United States is holding the Soviet Union responsible for carrying out the withdrawal from Cuba of bombers which Prime Minister Fidel Castro now offers to give up as obsolete.

This wait-and-see attitude was an initial Washington reaction to a letter to the United Nations quoting Castro as saying he is ready to let the Soviets take back the jet bombers if the Soviet government "considers it convenient for the good development of negotiations and a resolution of the crisis to withdraw such airplanes." Castro said his government therefore will

Indians Gird for 'Desperate' Stand

New Army Chief Named by Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today named a new army chief of staff and told Parliament the battered Indian army is ready for a desperate stand against Chinese Communist warriors rushing toward the rich plains of Assam.

Nehru also declared the Chinese "have sent many suggestions (for talks) but we are not going to accept any one of them. We shall continue the war until we win."

Gen. Joyanto Natch Chaudhuri, 54, commander of the Indian troops that seized Portuguese Goa last December in lightning conquest, was named to succeed Gen. P. N. Thapar.

Nehru said Thapar was relieved for health reasons and is going on a long leave.

Like Thapar, the new commander is a graduate of Britain's famed Sandhurst military school and a veteran of World War II. Nehru said the Chinese are advancing from captured Bomdila, only 80 road miles from the plains, along a road which leaves the mountains and runs through a strip of jungle before emerging onto rich rice fields and tea estates.

"Defensive positions have been prepared in front of them and our troops will give battle there," Nehru said.

He said the Chinese were "a few miles beyond Bomdila."

Between Bomdila and the plains there is one last mountain pass, 9,300-foot Eagle's Nest, that would offer a good defensive position.

The American consul general in Calcutta, William Baxter, recommended that dependents of Amer-not block the Soviet decision.

Removal of the jets could mark a breakthrough in stalled U.S.-Soviet negotiations on a Cuban settlement. President Kennedy has insisted the planes must go as part of the Cuba deal with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

But the United States has been holding the Soviet Union responsible for the presence of the bombers in Cuba. Therefore, U.S. officials said, the United States is looking to the Soviets—over the Cuban leader's head—to indicate that the bombers are going out.

Kennedy is slated to talk publicly about the Cuban situation in a news conference at 6 p.m. EST tonight. The President's meeting with the press will be nationally radio-televized. It is his first news conference since before the start of the Cuban crisis.

U.S. authorities made it clear that what Kennedy says tonight will be affected by any word—or lack of word—from the Soviets during the day about removal of the bombers.

Without setting up a definite timetable that would give the proposition one of the major elements of an ultimatum, U.S. negotiators nevertheless have emphasized to the Soviets at the United Nations that they were in a hurry for a satisfactory response on the point. The schedule for the Kennedy broadcast provided an implied time marker.

Soviet negotiators are reported to have contended so far that the planes are outdated, implying the United States should not be so insistent on their removal. The Cubans have sought to give the impression the planes belong to them.

Castro's declaration that he is willing to give up the craft because they are out of date would appear to be a face-saving solution for the Cuban leader.

Havana radio renewed Castro's threat to down U.S. reconnaissance planes that are still flying in the absence of the U.S.-specified inspection inside Cuba to see that Soviet missiles and other offensive weapons are actually removed, and restated his rejection of on-the-spot verification by outsiders.

Khrushchev has offered to withdraw the bombers in the past but only on such terms that the United States would not agree. Among other things, the Soviets have been backing Castro demands including withdrawal of the United States from its big naval base at Guantanamo in eastern Cuba.

If the bombers do depart from Cuba, Kennedy is expected to give consideration to carrying out some part of the commitments of his deal with Khrushchev. Kennedy has told Khrushchev that upon withdrawal of offensive weapons from Cuba and establishment of

Advisory Group Asks $10 Billion Tax Cut

Business Outlook Brightens

WASHINGTON (AP)—Upturns in home construction, factory orders and personal income during October brightened the economic outlook today as a presidential advisory committee recommended a $10-billion tax cut early next year.

In separate reports, the Commerce Department announced Monday:

Personal income rose $2.1 billion last month to a record annual rate of $445.6 billion.

Construction was started on 129,100 privately owned houses and apartment units, for a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,497,000, up 17 per cent from September and 4 per cent above October of last year.

Orders for durable goods climbed 3 per cent to a new high, exceeding the previous peak last January attributed in part to a heavy surge of steel orders.

Durable goods sales in October held steady at $16.4 billion, matching manufacturers' sales during August and September and equaling the peak of last spring.

The President's 21-member Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy informed him

Monday that a majority favors a $10-billion tax cut early next year to strengthen the economy and expand production.

In its report on fiscal policy, the committee outlined a double objective—to increase immediate demand for both consumption and investment, and, in the long run, to step up the rate of expansion of the nation's productive capacity.

"The United States can and must improve its recent record of economic progress," the report

Mrs. Yengling Succumbs At Age of 93

Mrs. Ina E. Yengling of 1063 Buckeye Ave., widow of Dr. Arthur C. Yengling, died of complications at 7:20 p.m. Monday in the Central Clinic Hospital, following a long illness.

Mrs. Yengling, who was 93, resided for a number of years in the city's only log cabin, a structure situated at the corner of Buckeye Ave. and W. 10th St. It was built by her husband as a memorial to his mother, Nancy Weaver Yengling, who was born in a log cabin near North Georgetown.

Dr. Yengling, who was president of the school board at one time, laid out the residential area around 10th and Buckeye.

Mrs. Yengling, who was born in Salem Jan. 17, 1869, was the only daughter of Amos and Rebecca Wright Rank, pioneer residents here. Mr. Rank, a patent office lawyer, was head of the old Aetna works which was absorbed by the Deming Company. Mr. Rank made all the parts for the McCormick mowers and reapers.

At the age of 21 she married Dr. Abram Carey, a Presbyterian medical missionary to India. He died in 1901. She later married Dr. Yengling, who died in 1927.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church, Travelers Club and the Salem Garden Club which she helped to organize. She was a graduate of the class of 1887 of Salem High School.

Encouraged Effort To Remove Him From Ticket

NEW YORK (AP)—After they had served four years together, Dwight D. Eisenhower did not regard Richard M. Nixon as "presidential timber," the former president is quoted as saying in a magazine article by a onetime aide.

In the current issue of Look, Emmet John Hughes, then a campaign assistant and speech writer for Eisenhower, quoted him as saying of his vice president in 1956: "The fact is, of course, that I've watched Dick a long time and he just hasn't grown. So I just haven't honestly been able to believe that he is presidential timber."

An aide of Eisenhower, who now lives in Gettysburg, Pa., said the former president would not comment on Hughes' article, entitled "The Eisenhower I Knew." Hughes wrote that his quoted conversation with Eisenhower took place in August 1956. On Aug. 22 that year, the Republican National Convention renominated the Eisenhower-Nixon team.

Eisenhower's words, as he opened the Republican campaign three weeks later, on Sept. 12, belied the misgivings Hughes said the former president had expressed.

"There is no man in the history of America," Eisenhower said then, "who has had such a careful preparation as has Vice President Nixon for carrying out the duties of the president if that duty should ever fall upon him."

The question of succession to the presidency was a major issue in the 1956 campaign. Eisenhower had been sidelined for months by a heart attack the year before, and was stricken in mid-1956 by

Nehru Sends Appeal for Aid to JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — India's Prime Minister Nehru has sent an urgent personal plea to President Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes.

The request was made in a letter delivered to the President on Monday by India's Ambassador B. K. Nehru, a cousin of the prime minister. Indian defenses were crumbling at the time as Red Chinese battalions advanced toward the populous plains of Assam.

The ambassador said he gave the President a report on the military situation and India's urgent defense needs in the border war.

Red troops stormed on Monday over 13,756-foot Se Pass sector on the Himalayan front — which Indian troops had considered impregnable — and approached Assam, a state producing much tea, rice and oil.

India also sent requests to the U.S. State Department for more arms and equipment to supplement the $5 million worth already delivered. Engaged along a 1,500-mile frontier with Red China, India has a major problem in supply and equipment for its troops.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said the United States views seriously the large-scale Chinese attacks.

U.S. officials here are concerned that Pakistan may agree to a nonaggression pact with Red China. This would open the way for Chinese troops to go through the Chumbri Valley 40 miles to Darjeeling and snap the narrow Indian corridor to Assam.

Pakistani officials say that current negotiations with Red China are "merely to insure that there is no border trouble between the two nations such as now exists between China and India."

Polish Sources Predict Showdown

Moscow-Peking Split Called Unbridgeable

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Some Warsaw quarters for the first time are describing the Moscow-Peking split as unbridgeable.

Cautious experts on Communist affairs continue to warn that the Soviet Union and Communist China still have more in common than divides them. But these voices are softer in the wake of recent developments over Cuba and India.

One diplomat said flatly the recent purge of Stalinists in Bulgaria and the apparent downgrading of the Berlin question are frantic Soviet efforts to shore up Moscow's flanks for a fullness showdown with Mao Tze-tung.

"The bridge has washed away," another diplomat commented. He was referring to the traditional role of Poland as a bridge, or mediator, in Moscow-Peking disputes.

Supporting this view is the possibility that veteran Chinese Communist Ambassador Wang Pingnan may quit the Warsaw post he has held for seven years.

Wang is now in Peking. A well informed diplomat said Monday he has been told if Wang returns to Warsaw, it will be to make his farewell calls.

This report touched off speculation on the future of the periodic ambassadorial meetings between Red China and the United States, held in Warsaw since 1958.

Reduction $20 Per $1,000 In Property

Realty Reappraisal To Show Duplicate Hike of 5 to 6%

D. M. Fadely, assistant superintendent of Salem Schools, Monday night at the Board of Education meeting announced a two-mill reduction in property taxes for school purposes stemming from an increased Columbiana County tax duplicate.

The reduction means a decrease of $20 for each $1,000 of property valuation.

The new rates reducing bond retirement by one mill and voted levies by one mill were established by the Columbiana County Budget Commission, headed by County Auditor Kenneth Bell, following the filing and review of the Salem school district's 1963 budget in September.

Cut Followed Reappraisal

The reduction by the commission, composed of Auditor Bell, Treasurer Vincent Judge and Prosecutor G. William Brokaw, followed a reappraisal of county property which was begun in 1959 and completed this fall.

The outside millage was reduced by one mill from 18.40 to 17.40 and the bond retirement was lessened by the same amount from 6.40 to 5.40 due to the increased tax duplicate which is expected to be from five to six per cent above last year's when figures are released by the county auditor.

The resolution from the budget commission showing the changes in millage rates were received by the Board of Education Monday from Auditor Bell.

Slightly Less Money

The decreased millage will give the Salem district schools slightly less money than this year. Next year the schools should get $1,296,000, including $259,200 from the bond retirement fund. This leaves $1,036,800 in the general fund which compares with the $1,043,000 received for the general fund this year. The $1,043,000 was slightly greater than originally estimated — because of the growing tax duplicate this year.

State law requires the County Budget Commission to reduce the voted levies in direct proportion to any increase in the total tax duplicate due to a re-evaluation of property. Since the reduction in the Salem school district levy is one mill, it means that the district tax duplicate will be increased somewhere between five and six per cent.

Some Increased Revenue

The inside millage of 4.2 mills does not reduce proportionately and the school district gains some increased revenue from the total increase in tax valuation.

The reappraisal of county property was made in accordance with Ohio law which states that counties must conduct reappraisals six years so each may be assessed by the State on the same basis. Some 60,000 parcels of land and 35,000 buildings were involved in the county reappraisal, Auditor Bell reported.

In other business Superintendent of Schools Paul Smith reported that supplies for elementary pupils costs the school an average of $2.66, whereas pupils are charged

Jury Convicts Two of Taft-Hartley Violation

DETROIT (AP) — The secretary-treasurer of Teamster President James Hoffa's home local and an Ohio trucking executive today face a possible 32 years in prison and fines of $500,000 each.

William Wolff Sr., 52, president of the Youngstown, Ohio, Cartage Co., and Rolland McMaster, 49, secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local 299, were convicted on 32 counts of Taft-Hartley law violation by a U.S. District Court Jury Monday.

The jury took 2½ hours, in the wake of a month-long trial, to find that McMaster received 32 checks totaling $8,823 from Youngstown Cartage in violation of Taft-Hartley prohibitions against a company giving money to an official of a union which represents the firm's employees.

Both McMaster and Wolff were continued at liberty under $5,000 bond and sentence was deferred, pending outcome of a pre-sentence investigation ordered by Judge Thomas Thornton. No sentencing date was set.

Each of the 32 counts involved what the government said had been disguised as rental payments made on a "phantom tractor" by Wolff to a firm wholly owned by McMaster. The government contended the tractor did not exist and that the payments were made by Wolff to prevent trouble being made by the Teamsters for Youngstown Cartage.

The Taft-Hartley Act prohibits payments of other than salary or other specified items by a company to a union official.

Lisbon Welding Shop Owner Ordered To Halt Operation

LISBON — Mayor Dean Stockman and Village Council Monday night at a special meeting ordered James Davis, owner of a welding shop at Pritchard and Caldwell avenues, to suspend operation of the shop which is in violation of a village ordinance.

The action followed a ruling by Solicitor Joseph Barozzi on the issue.

Davis, an employee of the County Highway Department, has done contract welding in his back yard since last spring and this fall built a garage workshop on his property.

Fourteen neighborhood residents attended a Council meeting Nov. 12 and alleged that operation of the shop constituted a nuisance.

Davis had presented a petition bearing signatures of 13 property owners within 250 feet of his shop who had given him permission to operate. However, Solicitor Barozzi said he subsequently received letters from three signers who wanted their names removed from his list.

Atty. John (Jack) Beck, Davis' counsel, said he would appeal Council's ruling on the grounds that the welding shop was in operation before the ordinance became effective.

Davis is expected to cease operations till his appeal is heard.

Blithe Spirit

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"When I wake up each morning," said director John Huston, "I think it offers more possibilities than any day I've ever known before."

"I don't live very much in the past. I don't prefer anything that ever happened to me over what might happen today or tomorrow."

Tall and spare at 56, Huston, son of the late actor, Walter Huston, has long been known as one of Hollywood's blither spirits and most versatile geniuses.

John has rumpled gray hair, and a crinkled face.

He has operated on the theory that life is something to live as you go along. He has been a boxer, actor, member of the Mexican cavalry, newspaper reporter, magazine writer, painter, U.S. soldier, script writer and film producer.

"The mistake most people make in living is taking the wrong things too seriously, such as giving a false importance to passing event that don't deserve it," Huston said as he sat, hunched in an old dressing robe in his hotel room, breakfasting on a big bowl of midday Manhattan clam chowder.

"People worry more about their economic security than their lives. They are more afraid of losing their jobs than of having the atomic bomb go off."

"I never worry about having a job—and I've been broke a number of times. In fact I'm always broke."

"Once I had a brief unhappy period of solvency a number of years ago. But by a desperate effort I got out of it. I even had a bank balance, but I got rid of it as soon as I found out about it."

One of the ways he avoids solvency is to maintain a 100-acre estate in County Galway—"any cottage of more than three rooms in Ireland is a castle"—where he rides to the hounds and keeps 25 horses and ponies. He tries to spend half of each year there.

"The things that are important to me," he said, "are my kids, my wife, my friends, my work and having a good time. A good time to me is doing the things I like to do."

"I like to go fox hunting or on safari, to visit art galleries and collect primitive art."

"When I was 50 years old, I decided I'd have a shot glass of bourbon on awaking every morning as a little reward for good clean living. But I haven't been able to live up to it. Like with most good resolutions, you keep forgetting."

PRAIRIE HEALER—Milburn Stone — "Doc" of television's "Gunsmoke" — has been "residing" in the Dodge City of Marshal Dillon's day for nine years, a fact which attests to his high quality portrayal of a physician's way of life in those rough-and-tumble days.

CITED AFTER MISHAP

Erwin Grapentine, 67, of 2042 Miller Ave., Alliance, was arrested Monday at 3:24 p.m. for failing to yield the right of way after he collided with a second auto on Route 62 about six miles west of Salem.

The Lisbon post of the state highway patrol said Grapentine made a left turn in front of a car driven by Ralph Mansfield, 68, of New Concord, causing minor damage to both vehicles. Neither motorist was injured.

Don't Count Them Out Yet

If observers on the scene in France know what they're talking about — and the statistics seem to bear them out — last Sunday's voting was another defeat for the politicians trying to edge Charles de Gaulle out of power.

It may dawn on some of them that they have been fighting something even stronger than the president of the republic. They have been fighting popular resentment of their own record.

They have been fighting the people's recollection of the way French politicians enjoyed playing politics even under the Germans. They have been fighting an impression that French politics before De Gaulle took over had ceased to be a way for Frenchmen to get things done and had become a game professional politicians played with one another for their own profit.

Contrary to what the politicians would like to think, France is not ready to return to this version of the political game. President de Gaulle with all his faults — and he has some — is preferable to the more numerous faults of his political opponents. At least he is interested in the grandeur of France when he talks about grandeur. He does not want and has not taken anything for himself. All his ambition is for his country.

It is tempting to believe Gaullism may mean a permanent setback for a kind of politics that has become intolerable. It is tempting to believe France may be getting ready to rid itself of a handicap that had become insurmountable when political confusion threatened to topple France in 1958 and De Gaulle saved the day with a new order of government.

Don't count out the politicians. Charles de Gaulle will be 72 this Thursday. The politicians can wait. When he is gone they will be the only Frenchmen with enough sustained interest to run the republic.

That's what makes a professional politician. He's the one who works at politics all the time. The amateurs work only when their blood boils.

Moderates Have a Voice

Interesting at this point of speculation about politics in 1964 is the way speculators are overlooking moderation as the best of all political positions in the United States.

The bulk of voters are moderates. The principal figures in both major parties are moderates.

Yet when political speculation is carried on for the benefit of those not aware of this key fact it is made to appear that reactionaries and radicals are locked in mortal embrace from which only one will emerge triumphant. Moderates are ignored.

The battle for party control is said to be between extremists. Among Democrats it is Sen. Eastland of Mississippi vs Sen. Humphrey of Minnesota. Among Republicans it is Sen. Goldwater of Arizona vs Sen. Javits of New York.

Yet moderates are always the numerical majority in a fight for party control.

THEY DO NOT have strong leadership. They usually have no leadership at all. They are consistently misrepresented, misled and misinformed by extremist leaders. But they are the backbone of the party—either party. The extremists who flank them right and left never can meet. They are poles apart.

New Ice Age

The 20th century will go down not only as the century that saw men begin the exploration of space but also as the era when they really inherited the earth.

A generation ago, a place like the North Pole was literally at the end of the world. Today, a trip there is in danger of becoming just another "ho-hum" cruise, at least for United States Navy submariners.

So far, American submarines have made 10 probes of the polar Arctic since 1931, when the USS Nautilus briefly surveyed the area. Twenty-seven years later, another Nautilus, the world's first nuclear-powered ship, became the first vessel of any kind to reach the North Pole.

The following year, 1959, the USS Skate crossed the pole under the ice cap and in August of this year she and the Seadragon met under the ice to conduct the first anti-submarine warfare exercise ever held at the top of the world.

These accomplishments have more than a military meaning, fortunately, and are more than merely a feat of human daring and determination. For it is conceivable that one day submarine freighters and tankers will be making regular voyages under the pole, carrying peaceful cargoes and linking old world and new in yet another direction.

Always Next Year

Another football season has piddled itself away in frustration, injuries, mud and lack of motivation.

We are speaking of fans, not players and instructors. They had their customary success.

Some won all their big games. Others mixed victory with character building and long-range hopes for next year.

With football fans, though, next year is nothing. They live in the right-now. No one gives a thought to their character or their hopes — only their cash.

They have a job to do, which is to get started in plenty of time to wait out the traffic jam, and park their car under conditions that in other circumstances would bring on a petition signed by 2,000 angry citizens.

Thereafter, they are expected to keep their mouths shut and climb to a badly marked notch on a remote chicken roost they have paid an exorbitant price to occupy provided when they get there it isn't already occupied by a row of fat old hens and wing-flapping roosters.

If they can squeeze in and put down the 12-inch backs of their sensitive laps on a pair of hardwood 2 x 4s laid side by side, nothing is expected of them but cooperation in helping other lost souls find a haven, passing money to goodie butchers and handing back the change.

Keeping their legs tucked under them when their soles are more bent to boot an extra point on a recumbent form before them, keeping their mouths shut until they have learned whether they are among like-minded ed fans or foul foes, then refraining from making insulting remarks to the latter unless they can handle the consequences without needing help from an usher.

Refraining from speaking the truth about the lack of intelligence among spectators who sit in the rain to watch football players wallow in the water, stifling the impulse in full games to announce their boredom and walk out.

Going through the motions of sportsmanship such as applauding lightly with heavily gloved hands when the opposing team's ball carriers make sensational advances, questioning the judgment of the officials and their accuracy in interpreting the rules they are paid to know.

Detecting offside and procedural infractions while pounding circulation into bunched legs and enduring stabs of pain in aching backs while seated instead of standing up at the wrong time.

Following the action on the field though there may be more of it in the stands, stifling the impulse to boo when a majorette drops a baton, also the impulse to stand up and peer through the field glasses at the majorette with the shapeliest legs.

Getting home through another traffic jam without swearing off football for life, pretending the wrinkle in the fender was put there by some other fool in some other parking lot.

And so on . . . When the end comes, football fans have had it, what with defeats, sacro-iliac sprains, wet feet, sinus congestion and wondering whether it was worth it. But there'll always be next year. And worse and more of it.

Is So-Called Tax Reform Just a Vicious Circle?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

It looks as if every dollar saved in federal taxes by a reduction in the tax rates of corporations will be offset by another dollar in increased expense due to new tax laws and regulations. American business may not choose to invest vast sums in plant and equipment when it cannot tell for another year or two just what extra levies are to be imposed by the so-called "tax reform" laws.

The government's continuing policy of trying to make up through new tax rules and regulations what it permits corporations to save through a reduction of their tax rates from 52 to 47 per cent will interfere with planning in private business.

Take as one example of increased cost a proposed Treasury regulation dealing with expense accounts. It has been widely proclaimed that the Treasury plans to require a receipt for every expenditure of $10 or more when a salesman, for instance, takes to breakfast, lunch or dinner a customer or prospective customer or anyone else related to his business transactions. Even tip would have to be listed and a record kept.

Already the credit-card clubs are advertising that they give receipts for meals and other services charged by their customers in participating restaurants and hotels but what of the big percentage of persons who pay cash for their meals?

Will they ask the restaurant and the waiter, too, to give them a signed receipt itemizing the payments made?

ONE HOTEL manager in Chicago has just announced that he will provide tape recordings to help prove that the conversation was of a business nature, and he promises that one of his waiters will be a notary public to witness signatures on restaurant checks and other documents.

Will a salesman have to make an affidavit that the man he lunched with is of help to him in business? Will a newspaperman, for example, have to swear that he got a news story or hoped to get information for publication from the government official whom he took to lunch? Can a taxpayer prove that all such expenses had a business purpose without asking the customer or news source to sign an affidavit or to testify in his behalf?

All this extra record-keeping costs money. Every company will have to keep on file for years the receipts turned in by employees for every item of expenditure which they make as individuals in behalf of the company and for which they are reimbursed.

Perhaps railroads will have to provide receipts at the ticket window when a buyer of rail transportation is on a business trip.

Will taxi drivers also have to give receipts?

The most uncertain factor is the coming demand by labor unions for increased wages. Certainly nobody who is realistic thinks for a moment that labor unions will sit idly by after corporate tax rates are reduced from 52 per cent to 47 per cent.

LABOR WILL want its share. Some presidential commission probably will suggest "guidelines" to determine labor's proportion.

The AFL-CIO has announced that it will insist upon a 35-hour week without any reduction in wages. The unions are in a position, because of their monopoly power, to extort a substantial part of the money saved by the corporations through lower tax rates.

This means that the companies will have to increase their prices in order to keep pace with rising costs and to avoid a further squeeze on profits.

It is significant, moreover, that expenditures by the federal government are not to be curtailed, and hence the annual deficits will continue to grow. Business will be faced with an inflationary trend in prices which, in turn, will hurt consumption.

Investments in new plant and equipment in America have stood still for many years now. The rate of profits as related to national output has steadily gone down. A high rate of unemployment continues.

All this isn't because of a lack of money available to borrowers but because of a lack of confidence in the future earning power of American business, confronted as it has been by a political bloc in Congress which for years has been and continues to be anti-business.

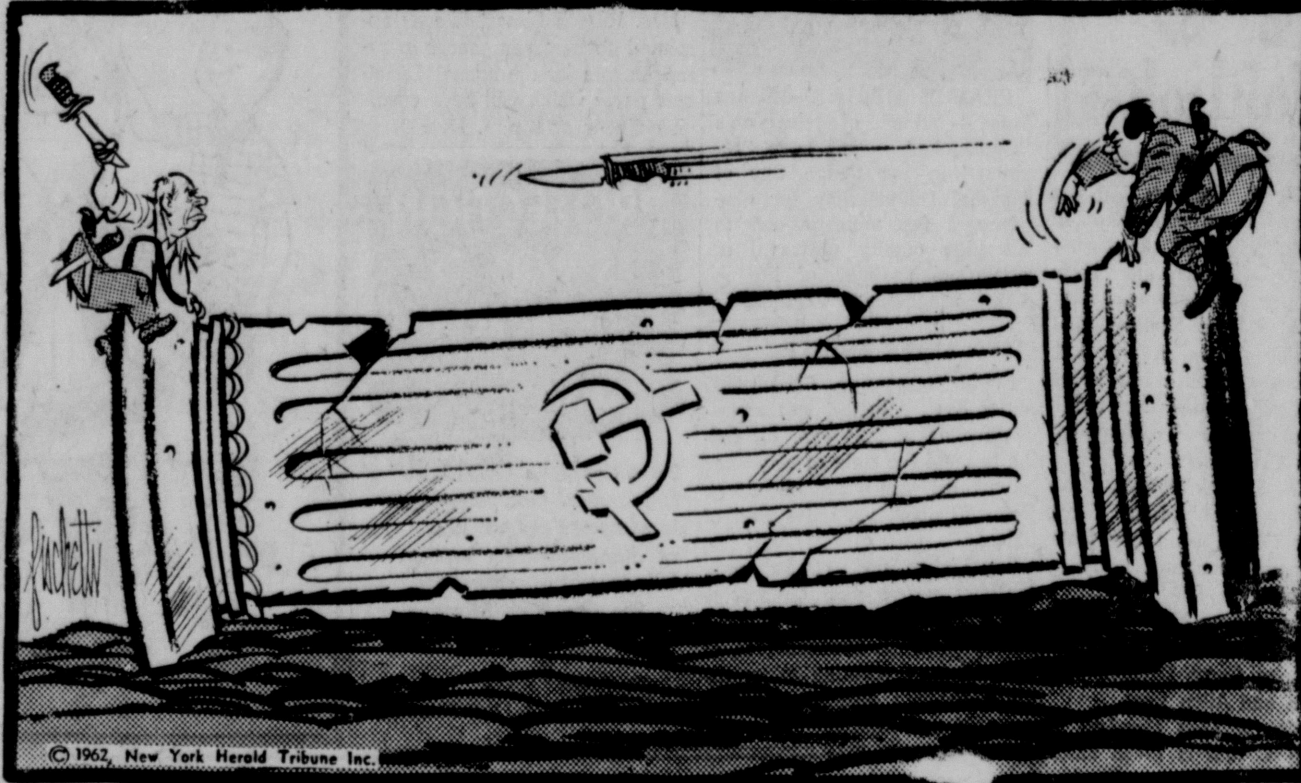

It is confidence in the business outlook that is needed, and this will not be restored by increased government spending or by bigger deficits or by interference with American business operations in its efforts to earn money overseas in competition with foreign companies.

Nor do complex tax rules and in business and the new threats of business through vague and conflicting antitrust suits offer a constructive help in building up the national economy.

The profit squeeze of today is directly the result of factors which the administration continues to ignore — among them the unsatisfactory wage-price relationships, the interference of the government in business and the new threats of foreign competition.

The prospect is, therefore, that the country will encounter more recessions that alternate with mild upturns and will not experiment in the over-all economy.

Real prosperity will not be achieved until there is in power an administration and a Congress of the same party dedicated to the idea of developing the American economy along the lines of free enterprise and without tolerance of monopoly power by any group.

Leaders' Pedestal

Commission To Police

By VICTOR RIESEL

This is the profile of a teamster union. It's slightly battered—like some of its members. One of its officials, leader of a powerful faction, disappeared mysteriously 18 months ago. Never heard from since in any form or shape.

Leader of another group has been battered by hammers, mugged, slugged. Also mysteriously. Somebody pushed him at a local meeting. He pushed back. He was expelled for life. A court reduced the union's "sentence" to one year.

Supreme leader of the union, but not exalted by all, especially not by the federal government, is a man whom James R. Hoffa has decorated and honored. The decorated chap is Anthony Provenzano, president of this union, Local 560, one of the three largest teamster locals in the nation.

Provenzano is also president of the Joint Council of Teamsters of New Jersey, hub of much transcontinental truck traffic. Also twelfth vice president of the Teamsters International Brotherhood. Each title has a matching income.

THE GOVERNMENT has charged that this income has been increased in several fashions which it calls illegal. So it indicted Mr. Provenzano twice. First, some time ago, on charges of violating the Hobbs anti-extortion act.

The government claims that Mr. Provenzano extorted some $17,000 from a trucking firm. The federalists were ready to go to trial on this one recently but Tony Pro, as his friend call him, fell down an elevator shaft. His doctors say he is not fit to stand trial.

And just the other day, U.S. Attorney David Satz obtained a grand jury indictment charging that Mr. Pro had received a thing of value from an employer of teamster Local 560 in return for a guarantee of no labor trouble.

The "thing" is a $26,000 house in which Pro lived but which was leased by his Canadian brother-in-law from the lawyer of Eastern Freight Ways, Inc.

THE LAYWER had been instructed by his client to buy the house in a pleasant New Jersey suburban development. He did. The president of Eastern Freight Ways then had the house leased to Pro's brother-in-law, who lives in Verdun, Canada.

The brother-in-law leased it for $150 a month. He did not pay this. He did not live in the house. Tony Pro resided there. And the government charges that the company president paid the title-holding lawyer the $150 a month.

This, says the government, is illegal under the Taft-Hartley law.

Mr. Pro is a very active teamster union leader. Jimmy Hoffa is so proud of Tony Pro that he came into Atlantic City some months ago to be photographed with his 12th vice president behind a "decorated" resolution praising the New Jersey chief's activities.

All this has awakened no great enthusiasm in government circles. Trucking is an important part of the national economy. Certainly highways are as important as the waterfront.

SO IT OCCURRED to someone in the inner sanctum that perhaps the way to treat so important a part of our national industrial life is to use the technique with which much of the old waterfront abuses were cleaned up. It was recalled that a decade ago New York and New Jersey governors decided to set up a bistate Waterfront Commission.

Today it does a hard-hitting policing job in the New York harbor. It has special squads of investigators. It holds hearings. It launches probes. It forages after pilferers.

It has eliminated the "casual" workers who showed up but occasionally. It has given stability of employment to longshoremen who no longer need to scramble for straw boss favor in early morning shape ups.

And the commission operates the hiring halls. Thus all longshoremen need a permit to work on the docks. They must register. When they need . . . they go to the hall and are hired in rotation. They walk in human dignity now.

This is what some high government officials have in mind for the teamsters in some regions. Statewide trucking commissions could be created.

Teamsters would have to register. Jobs would automatically be theirs once they qualified and worked a certain number of hours.

THEY STILL WOULD have to join the Teamsters Brotherhood under the union shop compacts. They would have a basic right to work without needing to seek anyone's favor, nor take anyone's abuse. They could not be expelled for crying out in protest.

Longshoremen have not suffered under such a commission. They have prospered. They are guaranteed work, in effect. They are moving away from the slums of the docks. They are merging with suburbia.

Nor will the teamster rank and file . . . would walk in dignity and have the majesty of the U. S. government behind them.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I had no idea there were so many frigid husbands around until their wives began to confide in you. Frankly I feel better about my problem now.

My husband developed icicle tendencies shortly after our marriage. I was bewildered and confused. He was amorous during courtship — even eager.

Then the soul-searching began. Perhaps it was my fault. After trying all the tricks in the book (and a few out of the book) I knew I couldn't change him so I readjusted my thinking.

My icicle-husband has many fine qualities and no bad habits. He is an excellent provider, a community leader, interesting company and he treats me with consideration and respect. We are far happier than many couples who have nothing to say to each other — except in the bedroom.

At 34 I can say, without bitterness, that sex isn't what it's cracked up to be. I lead a full and satisfying life without it. — SERENE

Dear Serene: Not all people are willing (or able) to make an accommodation of this kind. If the rationale works for you — bravo. You couldn't beat him so you joined him.

Confidentially

TO ALL READERS: Dozens of sharp-eyed readers wrote to tell me that a letter I published from "Augusta, Maine" was as neat a bit of plagiarism as has ever been slipped over on trusting columnist. "Augusta" asked "What is Woman?" and he went on to describe her caprices and her foibles. The culprit lifted (al-

was kicking around a number of campuses in the early 40's. (I got off my campus in '39, just in time to miss it.)

My thanks to all who called this thievery to my attention, a pox on the scoundrel who passed off the work as his own, and for me 10 lashes with a wet noodle for having been so readily hornswoggled.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Anaheim Does It

As a former Salem resident now residing in Anaheim, Calif., I thought you would be interested in knowing what Anaheim does at Halloween time to cut down on vandalism.

On a day before Halloween school is recessed and a parade is held for small school children and prizes awarded. An adult's parade is held the Saturday before Halloween, with floats and bands entered from all over southern California. There are more prizes. Stores and sales personnel are dressed up for the entire week and one bank this fall was decorated as a Las Vegas gambling house. Everyone enters into the spirit of things.

Halloween night is set aside strictly for youngsters up to and including the sixth grade and the children "trick or treat" only from 6 to 8 that night. Older kids just don't take part or cause trouble like I read about in the Salem News.

Smoking Harmful, Is Claim

Your editorial, "Truth Won't Be Self-Evident," Nov. 13, points out the danger of immoderate use of tobacco, alcohol and food and the need for more information concerning reasons behind compulsive behavior. Perhaps it is unintentional, but the statements grouping tobacco and alcohol with food imply that if used in moderation they are no more harmful than food.

What would you consider moderate use of tobacco? Is a person who smokes less than one-half a pack a day a moderate user? Studies by the American Cancer Society of a large group of men 50 to 69 years of age found that the over-all death rate of light smokers (one to ten cigarettes per day) was 1.3 times greater than non-smokers. The rate of death from lung cancer for the light smokers was about eight times as high as for nonsmokers.

Similarly, a British study found for men 35 to 54 years of age that smokers using one to 14 cigarettes a day had a death rate from coronary heart disease that was twice as high as for the non-smokers.

Is it reasonable, even by implication to group moderate use of food, a necessity for life, with the use of harmful habit-forming drugs?

Mr. Magoo Gets Temporary Stay Of Deportation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government has temporarily lifted the deportation order hanging over Mr. Magoo, the bachelor mongoose.

But the law is the law. Barring any further appeal to a higher executive or judicial level, Mr. Magoo must some day give up his happy home in the zoo at Duluth, Minn., and be packed off to his native India.

For a furry little mongoose who wasn't widely known up to a few days ago, Mr. Magoo has done quite well by the government. His case has reached Cabinet level.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall decreed late Monday that Mr. Magoo could stay at the zoo—but only as long as he remains a star attraction. Then it's off to India with him.

"The legal background for this commutation is quite lengthy," Udall said. "But it goes to the point that the law's intent was to prevent a population explosion among mongooses."

"This threat is obviously not an issue in the Duluth case, as was pointed out in one informal staff opinion which read: 'There can be no threat of an excess of the mongoose being loosed in Duluth as long as Magoo is not two.'"

Mr. Magoo was brought into the United States by a merchant seaman. As mongooses go, he wasn't anything special.

Then last week the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service lowered the boom. It pointed sternly to provisions of a 1900 law prohibiting the importation of mongooses. It looked like goodbye for Magoo.

But all of a sudden he was pretty big stuff in local animal circles. People bundled themselves up and went off through the cold streets of Duluth to visit the troubled mongoose. Thousands dropped by on Sunday.

While all this was happening in Duluth, Udall's office was getting all kinds of appeals in Magoo's behalf.

Monday the secretary of the interior met the crisis head-on and firmly ruled that Mr. Magoo could stay for the time being.

Columbiana County Deanery Gives to Mental Health Clinic

SUMMITVILLE — Mrs. Raymond Sturgeon, president of the Mahoning Deanery Council of Catholic Women, outlined her council work of the past 18 months and the need for women to take a more active part in lay organizations and civic activities when she addressed the Columbiana Deanery Council Saturday at St. John's parish hall here.

Fifty members of affiliated organizations were present. Mrs. Robert L. Carter of Summitville, president of the local unit, introduced Mrs. Sturgeon and Miss Ida Harty, Youngstown diocesan treasurer.

A welcome by Rev. F. A. Anzino, pastor of the host parish, was followed by a business session.

Mrs. John Bernert of Hanoverton, diocesan rural life chairman, gave a report on the 31st biannual convention of the National Council of Catholic Women in Detroit.

Committee reports were given by Mrs. Mary Bryan of Salem, legislation, Mrs. Paul Karaffa of Summitville, ways and means, and Miss Coletta Kelley of Summitville, foreign relief.

Members were encouraged to "keep Christ in Christmas" by use of advent wreaths and display of nativity scenes during the holiday season.

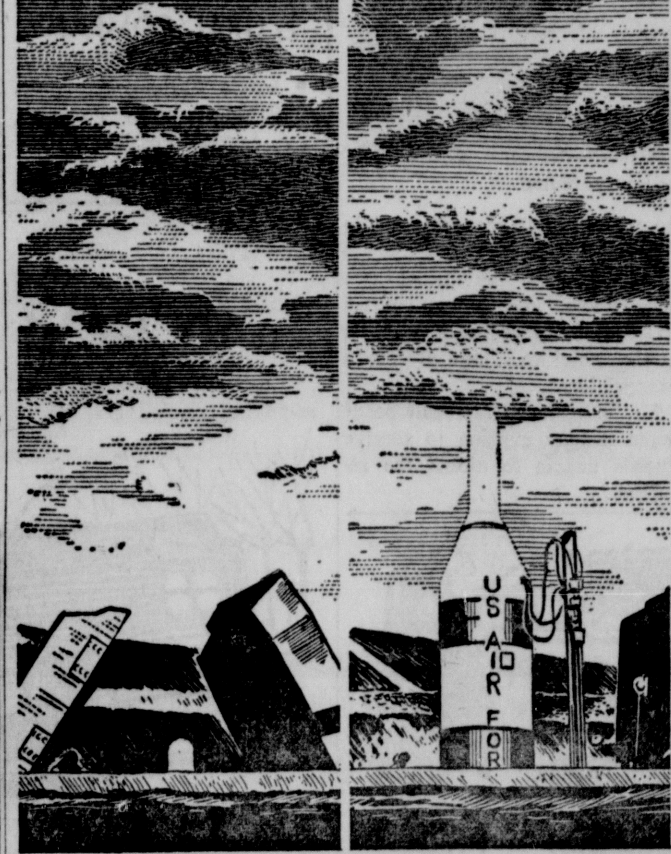

Holiday treats for County Home residents will be in charge of Mrs. James Gruber of Lisbon, mission chairman. A donation was made to the proposed mental health clinic of Lisbon.

The tea table was laid with a white cloth centered with a Madonna and surrounded with autumn flowers. Bronze tapers complete the appointments.

Mrs. Freeman A. Strabley of Salineville and Mrs. Walter Ewing of Lisbon presided at the sliver service. Hostesses were members of St. John's Altar and Rosary Society.

The next meeting will be Jan. 19 at St. George's parish hall in Lisbon, with Rev. Joseph Werner, pastor of St. Phillip Neri of Dunganon as guest speaker.

UNDERGROUND SENTINEL OF FREEDOM This Titan missile rises from its silo in just a few precious minutes. Soon six Titan squadrons will stand ready to protect our freedom. Your taxes are needed to pay for defense measures like this. Yet some people urge the government to spend tax dollars for more federal electric systems. This is needless. Along with the nation's more than 300 other investor-owned electric power companies, we can provide all the electricity our growing nation will need. This is no time for needless tax spending.

Hanoverton Group Named To Determine Use of Fund

HANOVERTON — Charles A. Gause, president of the Civic Benefit Fund Association, has appointed a 13-member committee to consider the use of $1,800 the association has on hand.

The committee, headed by Ralph A. Cox, a director, is composed of five other directors and seven community leaders selected by Gause.

Directors besides Cox are Carl N. Blake, Paul Crawford, J. Alvan Marquis, W. Dean King and William S. Maple Jr. Rounding out the committee are Rolland Dorr, Lee Bowman, Richard Spedel, Rev. Alonzo Wise of the Central Christian Church, Rev. Boyd S. Byrd of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church, Rev. Joseph Werner of St. Phillips Neri Catholic Church at Dunganon and Rev. John P. Bortor of the United Presbyterian Church.

Gause says the committee will meet Jan. 6 at the American Legion hall to attempt to resolve some worthy use for the money that has lain unused in a local bank almost from the time the organization was formed 10 years ago.

A Sunday night meeting of 30 persons from Hanover and Franklin Townships brought forth several suggestions for the use of the sum, including a scholarship fund, a medical clinic and a drugstore. The committee is expected to consider these proposals plus others which they consider worthy uses. The motion for the establishment of the committee was made by Dorr and seconded by Mrs. Howard Hart.

Main purpose of the Sunday meeting was to make a decision on wording of a petition that requests the money be used for scholarships for area children. A proposal was made that the petition be revised to read that the money could be used to help worthy students of Hanover Township attending United High School and Franklin Township students rather than students of United Local School District and Franklin Township. Agreement on this change was not reached.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions And Answers

Q-Except for seeing my dentist twice a year and brushing my teeth daily, what can I do to eliminate halitosis?

A-Bad breath may be caused by decaying tissue, mucus or food particles in the mouth, nose, nasal sinuses or lungs. Constipation has been overrated as a cause of halitosis. Eating onions, drinking alcoholic beverages and smoking may aggravate the condition.

In some persons the cause is hard to find. Sometimes all that is necessary is to take a few deep breaths to clear out the stale air in the deeper air sacs in the lungs.

Brushing your teeth daily is not enough. You should brush after every meal if possible.

DESPITE THE advertisements for various toothpastes, brushing alone will not remove all the food particles from between your teeth. These are the most likely source of the trouble. Some dentists recommend using what amounts to a rubber toothpick such as may be found attached to the handle of some of the better toothbrushes.

OTHERS ADVISE dental floss, but unless your dentist has instructed you to use it without injuring your gums, you had better not use it. The gums are easily bruised and whenever you bruise them there will be some dead tissue at the site of the injury. This in itself can be a cause of halitosis.

Chewing gum after meals may help to clean your teeth when you are unable to brush them. The gum does not have to contain chlorophyll.

If your tongue is coated, grasp the tip of it with a clean handkerchief and brush the back of it with a toothbrush. Mouthwashes often do not remove the cause.

Q-I am a housewife. Ten months ago I mixed some cleanser in my shampoo by mistake. The cleanser contains benzene. Since that time I have lost almost half of my hair. Could the cleanser have caused it? What should I do?

A-Although the causes of thinning hair in women are not known for sure some skin specialists believe that the regular use of shampoos that contain modern detergents may aggravate the condition.

This could not be a factor in your case unless the shampoo you use regularly contains detergent. A single exposure to a cleaning fluid even if it contained detergent could not be the cause.

Thinning of the hair in women is more diffuse than that seen in men, so no bald spot will form unless the patchy loss of hair known as alopecia areata develops. This is an entirely different disease.

There will always be enough hair on your head so that, with proper hair styling, the thinning will not be noticeable.

You should shampoo with castile or tincture of green soap and use a drier rather than rubbing briskly with a towel.

In setting your hair, avoid using the brush-type rollers that have become so popular, because they may cause hairs to break off and also they may injure the scalp.

REPRODUCTION AND SEX IN ANIMAL LIFE by Charles Gramet. This is easy enough for Junior High students to read, interesting enough for everyone. FICTION

BELIEVE MY LOVE by Laurence Chinn. When a young American woman and a young Chinese man fall in love at first sight, the results are apt to be confusing to them both and to everyone else as well. In this case it happened in the thirties, and obviously to the author. This is her third book.

NEW DEPARTURE by Kevin Connor. All about a gang of clever and brainy swindlers who become embroiled in the rivalry between two nouveau riche art collectors.

THE DIVING GOURD by Kim Yong Ik. This Korean author uses a beautifully simple style perfectly suited to the poor fishing and farmer folk he writes about. The plot concerns a family feud which develops largely because a young man and woman fall in love and want to marry against their parents' wishes.

FLETCHER'S END by D. E. Stevenson. Miss Stevenson has many followers, all of whom will be delighted to read a sequel to Bel Lamington - and to see Bel and Ellis happily settled in the Cotswolds.

WINDOW ON THE SQUARE by Phyllis Whitney. Based in the New York City of the 1870's, this is at once a love story and a tale of suspense. A young boy has deliberately murdered his father, and he now lives with his mother and his father's brother and family.

ily. All members of the family are more or less odd. The person in whom we are probably most interested is the young woman who is governess to the boy, and who tells the story.

NON-FICTION

ONE MAN'S FREEDOM by Edward Bennett Williams. Mr. Williams has gained a great deal of notoriety and some admiration for his defense of many people considered so palpably guilty as to fail to merit defense. His position is that we are in great peril as a nation when we infringe upon the rights of any man, no matter how guilty we believe him to be.

ONE HUNDRED MILLION LIVES by Richard Fryklund. The author discusses a very painful subject - one which we dread to think about. It is strategy of nuclear war. He believes that it is possible to plan events so that even in the event of a nuclear war being started, it will be possible to stop it with no more than three to eight million people being killed. Horrible as this is, he feels that this is better than losing a hundred million people and it obviously is. It is possible that the chief contribution this book can make is to inform the public how military minds are working in this current period.

THE DEPENDABLES FROM DODGE!

DON'T LET THE NAMEPLATE FOOL YOU...

THIS BIG ONE'S IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

CHRYSLER

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

The low-price field is about the last place a traditionalist would expect to find Dodge. The Dodge name has been associated with the medium-price boys since Hector was a pup. But the fact remains: the '63 Dodge is priced down with good old cars "F" and "C". Now, you can stay with a low price and get a lot more car. The name proves it: Dodge! You get the comfort Dodge is famous for. You get a smooth torsion-bar ride; experts call it best in the business. You get a V8 loaded for bear. (Or, the famous gas-saving 6 with the muscle of conventional V8's.) If that isn't enough to turn the other two green with envy, how's this for a clincher? Every 1963 Dodge is backed by a revolutionary new 5-year/50,000 mile warranty.*

*Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair without charge for required parts or labor for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first: on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); drive converter; drive shaft; universal joints (excluding dust covers); rear axle and differential; and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedule.

Two Appointments Due On Washingtonville Council

WASHINGTONVILLE — Village Council is faced with the problem of finding two more members after two members whose seats were vacated by Council Nov. 5, appeared Monday night at Council meeting to explain why they had not appeared at the last four sessions.

George Morrow and Howard Crumbacher, whose seats were declared vacant, appeared but

Pupils Will Get Holiday Recess

Thanksgiving feasting and holiday merriment will temporarily replace books and blackboards for the 3,750 pupils in the Salem schools who start a four-day recess Wednesday afternoon at 3:15.

Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith said schools will be closed Thursday and Friday in observance of the national holiday.

Classes will resume Monday.

All offices will be closed. Kent State University Center classes will not be held Friday evening and Trades and Industry classes are not scheduled Saturday morning, the superintendent said.

Tax

ged only $2.50. If the parents were to buy the supplies, including paper, scissors, pencils and paints, at a retail store, they would pay $4.24, Smith said. The wholesale purchases by the school also gives uniformity to materials used in the classroom.

The superintendent announced that Salem will be host for the first time to a meeting of the Ohio Association for Gifted Pupils. Two-hundred teachers and curriculum supervisors are expected to attend the program May 4 at the high school. Plans are now in progress, with E. S. Kerr, Smith's predecessor, as general chairman.

Attendance figures for the open houses held at the city schools this month in observance of American Education Week were released. They are: Buckeye and Junior High, 200; Prospect, 250; McKinley, Fourth St. and the High School, 300 each. Reilly School will hold its open house Nov. 27.

Fadedly said that the basketball courts at the junior high school, which were paved and fenced in this summer, will be ready for use after Thanksgiving. Baskets and backboards are now being erected on the two courts. Another court has been set aside for volleyball, handball or similar sports.

The superintendent reported that six pupils from Salem are enrolled in the Elkton special class for retarded learners, with the possibility of the seventh pupil enrolling soon.

Also discussed were the new style report cards being used in primary and intermediate grades and letters to parents that explained the progress that pupils are expected to make in various fields of study. In the lower three grades the conventional A through F grades were dispensed with and more subjective ratings substituted. The first six-weeks report cards of the school year were sent to parents last week.

Board members present at last night's meeting were president O. A. Naragon, Robert W. Campbell, Gail C. Herron, Atty. Bryce W. Kendall and Dr. Ralph J. Starbuck.

Supt. Smith has reminded Salem residents that all board meetings and records are open to the public. He invited citizens to attend the meetings and ask questions relative to the operation of the school system.

West Point School Yule Party Planned

WEST POINT — The Christmas party of West Point School will be held Dec. 17 at Beaver Local High School. It was decided at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting held last night at West Point School.

William Conrad, president, presided. Rev. Harold Applegate of the West Point Nazarene Church led devotions. The executive council was authorized to act as the ways and means committee by Conrad.

A Thanksgiving poem was given by Ricky Reynolds, first grade student.

Reports from various committees were presented. Mrs. Stanley Wolski reported on the state PTA convention she attended recently.

Mrs. Edith A. Lewis and Mrs. John Wallace served the lunch to the 50 who were in attendance. Mrs. John Steffen's first grade won the attendance banner.

During 1960, 121,845 of the 1.9 million drivers registered in Minnesota were involved in accidents.

only Morrow presented reasons for his absence.

The two have been at odds with policies and actions of the group, their disagreement culminating in their resignations last July. The resignations were not officially accepted until their chairs were declared vacant two weeks ago.

Ohio law declares that if a councilman is absent from four successive meetings without legitimate reason, he can be ousted.

Council has 30 days from the date the seats were declared vacant to appoint replacements for Morrow and Crumbacher. If the seats are unfilled at the end of that period, Mayor William Radler could make interim appointments.

In other action, Council passed a resolution declaring that the village join the Columbiana County Civil Defense Organization headed by Al Rutecki of Lisbon. Under the new organization Rutecki would be responsible to a board of five members, including one each from the board of county commissioners, mayors association, the city of East Liverpool, and the township trustees association.

Present at Monday's meeting were councilmen Thomas Tilley, John Fieldhouse and Benjamin Snow. Edward Davis was absent. The next meeting will be held Dec. 3.

The committee, composed of business and labor executives and public representatives, met last Friday to draft its report. Its non-voting alternate chairmen are the secretaries of labor and commerce.

The report was delivered to the White House by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Edward Gudemman, filling in for Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges. Gudemman is acting secretary of commerce while Hodges is away on a trip.

Wirtz said a distinct majority favored an early $10-billion tax cut, although some preferred spacing the reduction over two or three years. Two wanted to hold the cut to $4 or $5 billion during the next year.

The report said: "Tax rates should be reduced on both individual and corporate incomes. In dollar amount, the bulk of the tax reduction should take the form of lowering individual income tax rates. The remainder should be achieved through reducing the 'emergency' corporate tax rate of 52 percent."

The corporate rate was increased from 47 to 52 percent during the Korean War.

ing, councilmen discussed possible programs by which city park and sidewalks would be improved with federally-matched funds.

No definite plans for undertaking the programs were made. Further study will be conducted by City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff Jr. of federal requirements for receiving the public works funds.

At the meeting Monday night, councilmen also pondered the traffic situation on E. Sixth St. in front of the Salem High School and First Christian Church. Frequent traffic congestion in that area as parents call for youngsters after school has been receiving the special attention of the council's safety committee which is headed by Councilman Ralph Zimmerman.

an attack of ileitis.

Hughes wrote that Eisenhower had encouraged the effort by Harold E. Stassen, then his adviser on disarmament, to get the GOP convention to drop Nixon from the 1956 ticket.

The writer quoted Eisenhower as saying: "I told Harold he should feel entirely free, so long as he did not purport to speak in my name, and I meant it."

Earlier in 1956, Hughes wrote, Eisenhower had urged Nixon to leave the national ticket and take a Cabinet post, where the president felt "he could get some executive and administrative experience."

After Nixon had chosen to run again for the vice presidency, according to Hughes, Eisenhower said: "The thing Dick may have figured was that 1960 (the year of the following presidential election) didn't matter too much, and in the event of my disablement, he'd take over and at least have the presidency for that long."

icans on the north bank of the Brahmaputra River in Assam be evacuated. The Chinese are less than 50 air miles north of the river.

Baxter also recommended that Americans on the south bank urgently consider evacuation. There are about 100 Americans known to be living in Assam, mostly Baptist missionaries.

About 1,500 British tea planters and their families in Assam are considering evacuation.

The populous plains of Assam, which produce much of India's tea, rice and oil, were also threatened by a second Chinese drive bursting southward across India's northeast frontier district.

This column moved toward Assam down the Lohit River valley, near the Burma border, 300 miles to the east of Bomdila.

Nehru announced that in the Ladakh theater, 850 miles to the west, the Chinese have captured three more outposts guarding the vital Indian airfield at Chushul. He said the airfield, last main Indian base in the mountain passes of Ladakh, "remains firmly in our hands."

As bad news continued to pour in from the Himalayan battlefronts, informed sources said the Indian government may ask the United States and Britain for fighter planes.

Nehru sent an urgent personal plea Monday to President Kennedy for helicopters and transport planes. The Indian government is also reported to be in close contact with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

In a radio speech to the nation, Nehru called the fighting "a matter of survival for us" and said India was grateful "for the speedy help that came to us from friendly countries abroad, more especially from the United States and the United Kingdom."

West Branch Board Will Meet Tonight

The Board of Education of West Branch School District will meet in regular session tonight.

Among topics to be discussed are a booster pump for the new high school, the collection of cafeteria money, the well at Knox School and a study of the elementary curriculum. The resignations of two employees, a teacher and a custodian, are expected to be accepted.

Insurance Office Loot Totals $400

Money stolen from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. office at 600 E. Second St. Sunday night or early Monday amounted to approximately $400, according to company manager Harry Waller.

Also stolen were fifty 20-cent postage stamps and an undetermined number of 12, eight, four and one-cent stamps. Police Chief Martin Lutsch Jr. said this morning that he had no clues in the burglary.

Mrs. America Of '58 Files Divorce Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. William G. Giesse of suburban Mayfield Heights, who won the Mrs. America title in 1958, is seeking a divorce. Her husband blames pressures of "a modern life" for their breakup.

Mrs. Giesse, 38, gave incompatibility as her grounds for divorce in a suit filed Saturday in Common Pleas Court.

She said Monday her only concern now is the "protection of my three precious children from the onslaught of publicity that will come from the divorce."

Mrs. Giesse and her husband, who were married in 1945, said they still were friends and respected each other, but that divorce was the only answer to their personal problems.

He is a Mayfield Heights councilman and a division manager of Frederick Chusid Co., management psychologists.

"We found ourselves growing apart," Giesse said. "It may look funny on paper, but it reduces itself to us both getting so wrapped up in interests other than the family that soon it was too late to do anything about it."

The couple's three children are William, 12, Susan, 9, and Bobby, 5.

"The public is going to condemn me," Mrs. Giesse said. "People will be quick to destroy the symbols I represented when I was Mrs. America, but I'm just a Mayfield Heights housewife now who's got a problem and is trying to work it out quietly."

Giesse said his wife was the "finest Mrs. America this country ever had" and "still would qualify for the title today."

rope as well as of the Warsaw diplomatic corps, went home in mid-October for what was then described as a temporary absence. Subsequently, Chinese Red ambassadors were called home from other Soviet bloc capitals.

No rupture of diplomatic relations between Communist China and the Soviet bloc is expected at this stage. But the replacement of Wang by a junior diplomat would be evidence that Peking no longer attaches value to Warsaw as a point for mediation within the Communist world—or with the United States.

Wang's absence has already caused postponement of one meeting with U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot—from Oct. 25 to Dec. 13.

Other evidence of the Soviet bloc-Chinese split was provided last weekend by the granting of substantial Polish industrial credits to India at a time when that country is in a shooting war with Communist China.

Those who witnessed the cordial signing of the eight-year, $32.3-million agreement between Poland and India wondered if Moscow hadn't nudged the Poles.

international safeguards to insure Cuba is free of such weapons, the United States would lift its blockade of Cuba and pledge not to invade the island.

There had been no concrete indication that Kennedy would be able to report further progress on the Cuban situation when he goes before newsmen at 6 p.m. EST for the news conference to be carried by major radio and television networks.

But there had been optimism among administration officials in recent days that some arrangement on withdrawal of the bombers from Cuba would be worked out prior to the President's meeting with newsmen—his first in 10 weeks.

Authoritative sources reported last Thursday that Soviet Premier Khrushchev had offered to withdraw the bombers, but had attached so many conditions that the proposal was unacceptable to Washington.

Therefore, any new offer by Castro would get close scrutiny for attached "ifs."

The prime minister was quoted as saying again today that he would never consent to on-site inspection for the removal of offensive weapons.

Once again, according to the broadcast, he declared he would stop aerial reconnaissance of the island by U.S. planes. Washington authorities have made it clear that any attempt to interfere with the reconnaissance planes would be met by force.

President Kennedy has never before allowed 10 weeks to lapse without meeting with newsmen. Since the Cuban crisis boiled up last month, the administration has kept a damper on news of the situation.

In a radiotelevision speech on Oct. 22, Kennedy declared that the Soviet Union was building offensive missile bases in Cuba and was bringing in jet bombers.

He threw an offensive arms blockade around the island and told Moscow to pull back its missiles and bombers.

On Nov. 2 in a brief broadcast, Kennedy reported the dismantling of the Soviet rockets and said "progress is now being made towards the restoration of peace in the Caribbean." He promised to "continue to keep the American people informed on this matter."

A break in the crisis had come with an Oct. 27-28 exchange between Kennedy and Khrushchev. Not all of the messages were made public. In those that were, Khrushchev said he had ordered withdrawal of offensive weapons.

Kennedy said he would lift the arms blockade and give a no-invasion pledge upon the establishment of international safeguards to assure Khrushchev carried out his commitment and offensive weapons would not re-enter Cuba.

to shoot down any war plane violating the nation's air space, a reference to U.S. reconnaissance planes which have continued aerial surveillance of Cuba to insure that the dismantled missile bases are not reactivated.

Castro charged that the U.S. insistence on removal of the Soviet jet bombers from Cuba "is a pretext to maintain tension, prolong the crisis and sustain its policy of force."

"However," he continued, "if the Soviet government considers it advisable to withdraw these planes for the benefit of negotiations and for the solution of the crisis, the revolutionary government of Cuba will not be an obstacle to this decision."

Castro insisted that the bombers had been sent to Cuba "for the defense of our country against aggression." As he did earlier with the Soviet missiles already withdrawn from Cuba, he described the planes as "property of the Soviet government."

Referring to violations of Cuban air space, Castro "reiterated that Cuba has the indisputable right to defend its territory against such violations. As far as our anti-aircraft weapons can reach, every war plane which invades Cuban air space will do so at the risk of being destroyed."

He complained the United States had declared "that American military planes will continue to violate Cuban air space. These aggressive acts are in flagrant contradiction to international law and to the United Nations charter."

Castro's offer came after midnight, and State Department press officer Lincoln White said he knew nothing about it. However, officials of the Kennedy administration had shown optimism in recent days that some arrangement for withdrawal of the bombers would be worked out before President Kennedy's news conference tonight, his first in 10 weeks.

Authoritative sources reported last Thursday that Khrushchev had offered to withdraw the bombers but had attached so many conditions his proposal was unacceptable to Washington.

Salem Will Participate In 3 Scrimmages This Week

Quakers Are At Beaver Today

Farrell, South Are Here Friday

Salem Coach John Cabas will get a chance to see how far his basketball team has come along in pre-season drills when it engages in three scrimmages scheduled this week.

The Quakers travel to Beaver, Pa., for a drill today, they will entertain Canton South and Farrell, Pa., Friday and travel to Akron Hoban for a morning-afternoon workout Saturday.

Cabas took 10 players to Beaver this afternoon. Assistant coach Carl Zellers held a practice at Senior High School for the rest of the team.

The Quakers open their regular season against Columbus East at home Dec. 7.

"This is a typical Salem team. It has shown an excellent attitude with plenty of desire and enthusiasm so far," Cabas declared.

Salem practiced defense for the first time yesterday. During early workouts the team has learned fundamentals, and the style of play it will employ this season.

Cabas plans to carry a varsity roster of 15 players at the beginning of the campaign. He hopes to be working with only 12 by tournament time.

At yesterday's session Cabas issued the training rules he expects his squad to keep, and he told the boys he plans to enforce them.

The 10 players participating in today's scrimmage at Beaver include seniors Bill Beery, 6-1; Bob King, 6-5; George Buckshaw, 6-5; Marlin Waller, 6-0; Richard Sweitzer, 6-1; Richard Platt, 5-9; Dave Capel, 5-9; Jerry Hasson 6-1 and Larry Deitch, 5-10.

George Begalla, a 5-11 junior, also traveled with the Quakers.

The squad has been cut to 33 players since practice began two weeks ago. The team includes Bill Carter, Wayne Washington, Paul Wukotich, Tom Grimm, Frank Kautzman, Dick Barrett, Larry Earley, Art Spack, Pete Nollner, Jim Slaby, Dave Keller, Larry Charnexky, Dick Ehrhart, Frank Fitch, Rich Gregg, James Garrett, Cody Goard, Dennis Everhart, Charles Joseph, Bill Cushman, Jack Rea and Doug Kilamin.

Bruins Name Schmidt New Hockey Coach

BOSTON (AP)—Milt Schmidt, replacing the man who replaced him as Boston Bruins coach, listed today a plain-talking squad meeting and a change in the goal-tender system atop his agenda.

An all-time National Hockey League great as a Bruins player and team coach from 1955 through 1960-61, Schmidt regained the coaching position Monday, succeeding Phil Watson.

Boston is in the NHL cellar and on a 13-game winless streak. The Bruins haven't won since their opening 5-0 triumph over Montreal.

"This is a tough situation," Schmidt said of the news which "came to me completely out of the blue."

"The first thing for me to find out is what frame of mind the players are in. Then I'll try to get them in a different viewpoint."

"I want them to get a few things off their chests and I'm certainly going to get some off mine. I'm seeking a happy family."

"I'm sorry for Phil. I know how he feels. I went through the same thing a couple of years ago."

Schmidt doesn't want to continue the system of carrying two goaltenders, Bobby Perreault and Ed Johnston.

Russians Beat Both U.S. Cage Squads

MOUNT PLEASANT, Iowa (AP)—Iowa girls definitely are no match for Russian women on the basketball court, and it's beginning to look as if the Soviet men may also win their duel with the Americans.

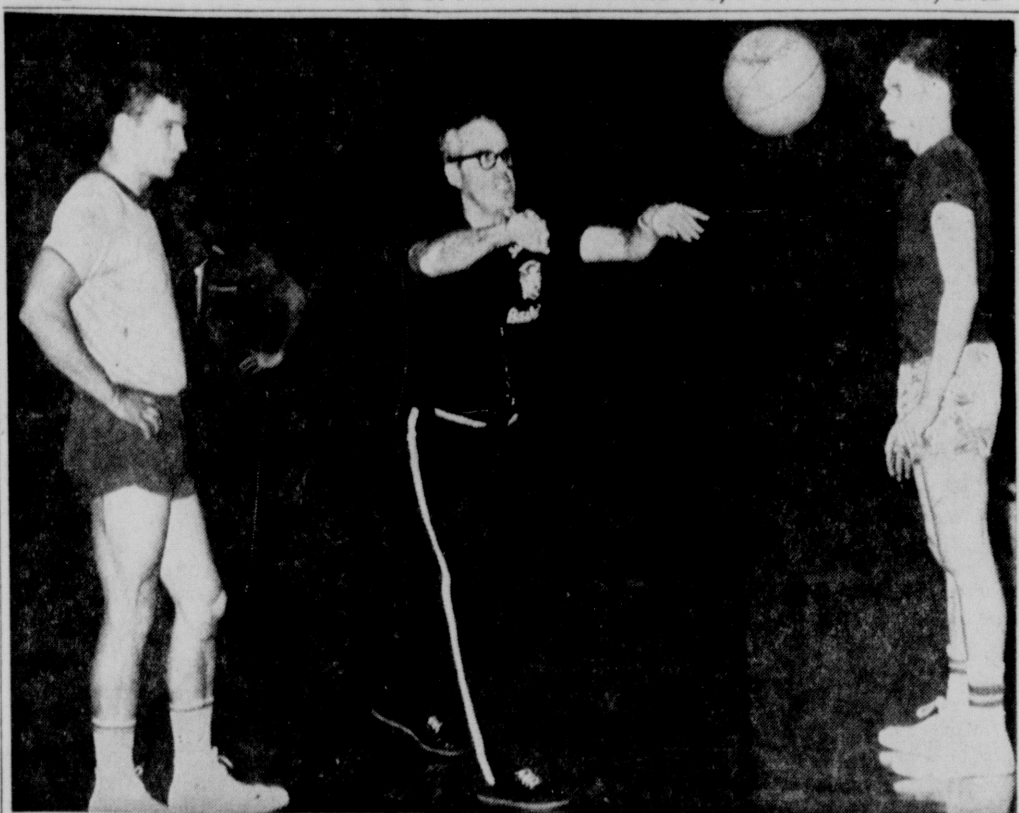

The Russian women overpowered the Iowa Wesleyan Tigerettes 88-38 Monday night, and the men nipped the NAIA All-Stars 83-82 on a desperation shot at the final buzzer.

The women's victory was their fifth straight over American girls, and the men's triumph was their third in a row and gave them a 3-2 edge with three games to play in the tour.

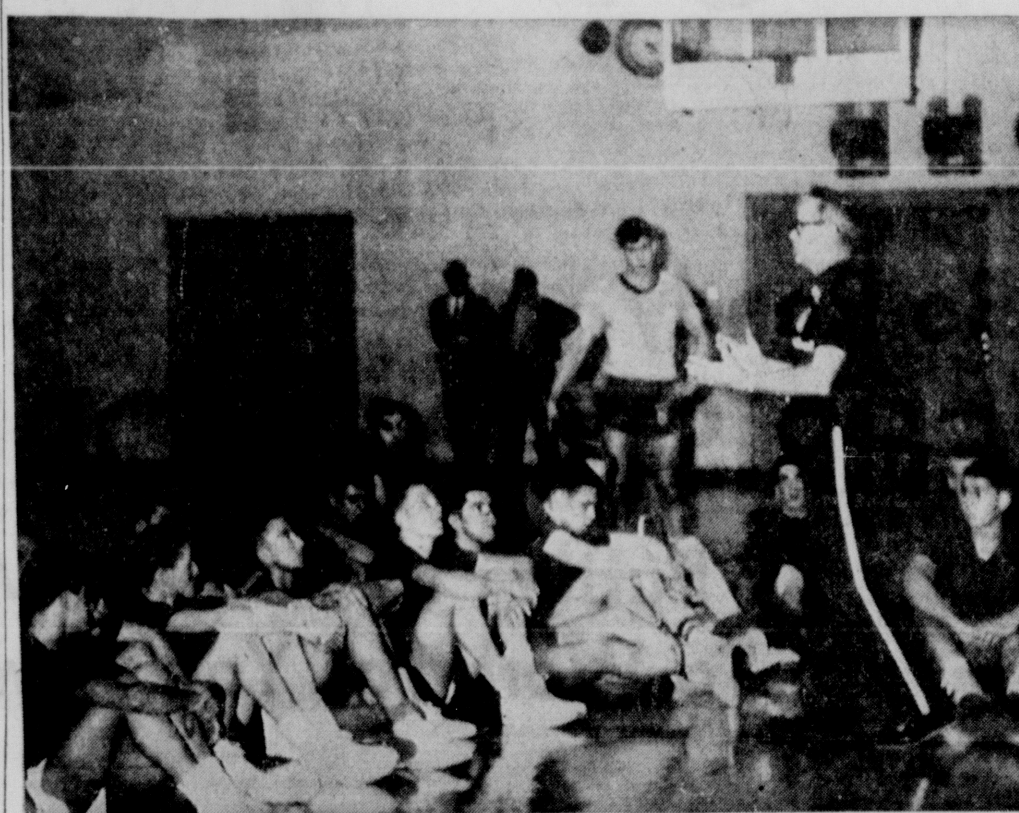

A crowd of 1,100 turned out for the exhibitions here and saw a blazing battle between the men with the lead changing hands three times in the last 40 seconds.

Statistics Favor Ohio State Over Michigan Rival

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The statistics heavily favor Ohio State in its traditional season-ending clash with Michigan Saturday, but No. 1 scout Esco Sarkkinen still says "it could be a whale of a contest."

In eight games Ohio has scored 177 points to Michigan's 70. The Bucks have held opponents to 98 points while the Wolverines have given up 186. The Buckeyes have outgained Michigan 2,573 yards to 1,440. Ohio's 5-3 record stands against Michigan's 2-6.

But Sarkkinen told Columbus sportswriters Monday:

"I am dismayed at the way you write about an undismayed opponent who is coming here with undisguised ambitions to run us. This game isn't settled—not by a long shot."

Sarkkinen has watched Michigan beat Illinois 14-10 and lose to Iowa 28-14, the same way Iowa beat the Buckeyes. He said the Wolves, with a lot of early season changes, are settled down and improving.

USC Is New Survey Leader; Mississippi Is Picked 2nd

By The Associated Press
Southern California rushed in today where angels fear to tread and took over the jinx-loaded No. 1 spot in The Associated Press major college football rankings in a tight finish with Mississippi, another unbeaten power.

The fall of Alabama, last week's leader, after its upset by Georgia Tech, opened the door for Southern California, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Texas and Minnesota one. On a point score with 10 for a first place ballot, nine for second and so on down, Southern California had a 439-403 margin over Mississippi.

Southern California's unbeaten Trojans, who just did get past Missouri, beaten by Oklahoma

13-6, drew 20 first-place votes to 15 for Mississippi, a 19-6 winner over Tennessee. The remainder of the 48 votes from the guest panel of sports writers and sportscasters participating in the weekly Associated Press poll were spread over four teams with Wisconsin, No. 3, getting seven firsts, Penn State three, Texas two and Minnesota one.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses:
1. Southern California (20) 439
2. Mississippi (15) 403
3. Wisconsin (7) 384
4. Texas (2) 326
5. Minnesota (1) 235
6. Alabama 232
7. Arkansas 209
8. Louisiana State 140
9. Penn State (3) 94
10. Oklahoma 43

Bucs Also Had To Give Up Olivo

Pirates Trade Dick Groat To Cardinals For Cardwell

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' long-time search for an experienced, good hitting shortstop has ended with the acquisition of veteran Dick Groat from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Cards, the tradingest team so far in the off-season, obtained Groat Monday in their second major swap since the 1962 season. Groat and relief pitcher Diomedes Olivo, 42, came to the Cards with right-hander Don Cardwell and young shortstop Julio Gotay going to Pittsburgh.

The deal came just 48 hours before the start Wednesday of baseball's annual 3-week inter-league trading period. The Cardinals have long had their eyes on Groat, 31, former Duke All-America basketball star who won the National League batting crown and was named the league's Most Valuable Player in 1960 when the Pirates won the pennant and beat the Yankees in the World Series.

Shortstop has been a Cardinal problem for years, but St. Louis manager Johnny Keane believes Groat is the solution. "He's one of the best in the league at handling the bat," said Keane. "He's as good as anyone in baseball in the No. 2 spot in the batting order. He can go to the opposite field, he can pull, he can hit and run as well as anyone and he can punt. He's a real leader in every way."

Groat said he's "looking forward to playing with St. Louis."

I just hope I can help them."

Groat hit .294 last season, hit 20 homers and drove in 61 runs.

Groat hit .294 last season, hit two homers, and drove in 27 runs. His lack of experience, both at bat and in the field, had much to do with the failure of the Cards to play up to expectations as a pennant contender.

Joe L. Brown, Pirate general manager, said, "We regret losing Groat. But we are getting a great potential ball player in Cardwell. I feel we are strengthening our pitching staff."

Cardwell came to the Cardinals last month from the Chicago Cubs with George Altman and Moe Thacker. The Cards gave up pitchers Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel and catcher Jim Schaffer.

Cardwell, 27, had a 7-16 record last season and a 4.91 earned run average.

Olivo was a rookie last year and had 5-1 record. He struck out 66 and walked 25 and finished with a 2.79 earned run average.

Columbus Capital's Squad Has Folded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Columbus Capitals have been dropped from the United Football League. Commissioner George T. Gareff said injuries made it impossible for the Caps to field a team.

Columbus, which had led the Eastern Division until two weeks ago when local backers gave up their franchise, was to have played Grand Rapids Sunday.

The Caps were one game behind Wheeling in the division standings. Their withdrawal Monday gave the Ironmen the title and a berth in the league playoff Dec. 2.

The withdrawal also cleared the scene in the Western Division, setting up a playoff between Indianapolis and Grand Rapids Sunday in the Michigan City. The two teams have 8-3 records.

Originally Indianapolis was scheduled to play Louisville, but the Raiders dropped out of the 2-year-old league last week. Columbus' departure also gave Grand Rapids a bye and set the stage for a rematch of last year's playoff in the Western Division. Grand Rapids won that game and went on to win the league championship.

Besides Wheeling, Grand Rapids and Indianapolis three other teams remain in the league—Cleveland, Toledo and Chicago.

Pittsburgh Has Won 3 In Row

Cleveland Faces Steelers Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will be facing a team riding a three-game winning streak when they meet the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday in their last home game of the season.

Since losing to the Browns 41-14 in Pittsburgh Oct. 28, the Steelers have defeated Minnesota, St. Louis and Washington and advanced into third place in the National Football League's Eastern Division.

The Browns compiled a 1-1-1 mark over the same period and are in fourth place.

No team apparently has a chance of catching the pace-setting New York Giants, but the Washington Redskins, Steelers and Browns are locked in a duel for second place and a bid to the NFL's runnerup bowl.

The Browns wind up their schedule on the road against Dallas, New York and San Francisco. After Sunday's clash, the Steelers will play St. Louis, Philadelphia and Washington. The Redskins play host to the Giants next and then face Philadelphia and Baltimore in addition to the Steelers.

Packers Face Strong Detroit Lions

Hornung Will Play Thanksgiving Day

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Paul Hornung, versatile halfback of the Green Bay Packers, says nonsense to reports he won't be able to play if needed in the Packers' important National Football League game with the Lions at Detroit on Thanksgiving Day.

"I can play Thursday," Hornung said today, discounting earlier reports that said he didn't expect his ailing right knee to permit him to get into the line-up, and others that had him contemplating surgery on the knee eventually.

"My knee is still not 100 percent, however. I can't run full speed yet and I have trouble bending my leg but it is coming along. I could have played Sunday (against Baltimore)."

Regarding possible surgery on the knee, which was injured in a game against Minnesota Oct. 14, Hornung refused comment.

"I got pretty banged up, but I've been encouraged by the response to treatment."

He has seen only about 5 minutes action since then.

Hornung suited up Sunday but did not play in the 17-13 victory over Baltimore, the 10th straight for the unbeaten National Football League defending champions.

Old Dutch Beer, Bowersock's, Applegate's Win Openers

Four players scored in double figures as Old Dutch Beer whipped Bud Shaffer Ford 83-33 during the opening of the City Basketball League season at the Memorial Building Monday night.

In other contests Bowersock's smashed Applegate's 63-33 and Salem Technical School clipped Berlin Merchants 57-43.

Old Dutch held a 12-9 lead at the end of the initial period, increased its margin to 36-11 at intermission, and had a commanding 59-27 spread at the end of the third frame.

Ed Daugherty paced the winners with 22 points. Dave Hiner collected 17 markers, while teammates Clyde Shoff and Jerry Schaffer chalked up 16 and 12, respectively.

Paul Franks tallied 14 markers for the losers.

Bowersock's held only a two-point lead, 13-11, at the end of the first period, but rolled to a 35-17 margin by intermission. Applegate's cut the deficit to 46-34 at the end of the third stanza.

Chuck Wilson sparked Bowersock's with 17 points. He was followed by 15 markers and Ed Votaw with 13.

Lee Ralph paced Applegate's with 12 markers. James Franko had 11.

Salem Technical School raced to an 18-6 first quarter lead, held a 26-16 margin at half time and a 45-30 lead at the end of the third period.

Lendak took scoring honors for the winners with 19 points. Briniser collected 15 and Lutton had 11.

Dick Confoey paced Berlin Merchants with 11 markers. Oral Bates had seven.

End Jim Gibbons has either led or shared the Detroit Lions pass catching leadership for the last three years.

The Dodgers and Pirates were the most successful teams against the New York Mets. Both lost only twice in 18 meetings.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

The birthday celebration we had last week went over very well. I had a very enjoyable time. What grocer wouldn't it he had the biggest business in ten years.

Thank you all for everything. About 35 people visited the store with a birthday Nov. 10th. I gave each of them a small present. Refreshments were served to everyone. Perhaps we can have another one next year. The oldest person to visit us was 89 years, the youngest, 23 days.
